6. Stamped Concrete

- i. Stamped, textured or imprint concrete is a decorative concrete, used in flooring. Large number of finishes can be achieved with such concrete in desired colours with the surface resembling bricks, stones, tiles or wood. The process includes preparation of subgrade, placing of forms, providing reinforcement for stability, placing the concrete, screeding and finishing the concrete, applying colour and lastly, stamping the concrete using desired moulds.
- ii. Procedure of casting stamped concrete
 - a. Subgrade preparation: The subgrade is important for concrete roads and subsequently for stamped concrete. The subgrade must be well-compacted to stop settlement and cracks due to settlement.

- b. Placing the formwork: Next step is to place the forms made of wood, metal or plastic as per specifications of the item. Formwork should be clean with enough stiffness and capable of retaining its shape during casting of concrete.
 - c. Placing the concrete: In this step, concrete is placed, usually ready mixed concrete (RMC) as per design requirement. The concrete should be placed as close as possible to the destination. To avoid concrete splatters, adjoining structures may be protected from plastic sheets.
 - d. Screeding and finishing the concrete: Screed is basically a thin layer of cement and fine aggregates or cement, sand and aggregates of small size, laid on to a concrete floor base to act as a smooth flat levelling surface for taking on the final floor finish. The work done immediately following concrete placement is critical as imprinting is required after this step. The surface is levelled to prevent any undulations in a way that cement paste comes to the surface to permit a pre-defined imprint.
 - e. Applying colour: Desired colour is then added to the concrete for stamping.
 - f. The stamping: Before actual stamping, the stamp layout is diagrammed and enough workers are deployed as the window of time for stamping is generally short, especially in warm weather. Typically, the edges are pre-textured first so that when larger stamps are used later, they may not overlap the forms and get fully depressed into the concrete. The concrete is then stamped in the same sequence it was placed. Stamping alignment is checked regularly verifying the pattern to ensure desired outcome.
 - g. Curing: Curing is then carried out as per specifications.
 - h. Installing joints: Joints are then cut as per the requirements at planned locations.
 - i. Sealing stamped concrete: In final step, sealer is applied to enrich the colour of concrete and to block penetration of stains from dirt, chemicals, leaves, etc.
- iii. Specifications of Stamped concrete
- a. Stamped finish concrete is inclusive of UV resistant colour hardener, curing compound, release agent and acrylic sealer, special imprinting and texturing tools, sealer application tools, etc.
 - b. All stamping works is to be executed by the approved specialized agency as per the manufacturer's specifications and direction of Engineer-in-charge. Condition of preparation of mock-up sample of appropriate size can be included prior to taking up the stamping work.

- c. Concrete of the specified grade is to be used as base material for stamping over concrete.
- d. Regular grade UV resistant colour hardener of approved colours is to be used as per manufacturer's specifications.
- e. The release agent of approved make as per manufacturer's specification and colour(s) is to be used.
- f. The pattern shown in architectural drawings and approved by the Engineer-in-charge is to be made by using imprinting tools.
- g. The imprinted concrete slab is to be cured as per manufacturer's specifications.
- h. The acrylic sealer of approved make and as per manufacturer's specifications is used. The consumption of sealer should not be less than 0.167 litres per sq. m.
- i. Construction joints and/or expansion joints should be provided in accordance with the drawings and as specified in the specifications or as decided by the Engineer-in-charge.
- j. The concrete should be placed and screeded to the finished grade and floated to uniform surface using standard finishing tools and techniques as per manufacturer's specifications.
- k. The UV resistant colour hardener of approved colours duly approved by the Engineer-in-charge should be applied evenly to the surface of the freshly laid concrete by the dry shake method in two or more shakes, floated after each shake and trowelled only after the final floating.
- l. The release agent approved by the Engineer-in-charge should be applied evenly to the trowelled surface prior to imprinting.
- m. While the concrete is still in its plastic stage of set, the imprinting tools should be applied to the surface to get the desired pattern.
- n. The concrete should be cured in accordance with the manufacturer's recommendations. After initial curing period, the imprinted joints should be grouted, and surface be sealed as per manufacturer's specifications.
